

Pastor TO Pastor

The Pastor to Pastor Network — an initiative of the Talbot School of Theology Center for Faith, Work and Economics. It exists to create a platform and community for pastors to collaborate for the execution, integration and application of meaningful faith, work and vocation into their local church.

Together, this network of pastors partner together to help equip their church members live integrated lives: at home, in their communities and in the workplace.

WHAT WE PROVIDE

- Regular gatherings of pastors who minister in the marketplace
- Access to customized tools, resources and materials for use in your local church
- A platform for sharing of ideas, strategies and work

HOW YOU BENEFIT

- Collaboration. By facilitating peer-to-peer collaboration, the network gives pastors an opportunity to share ideas and leverage strengths.
- Execution. The network offers practical, realistic strategies to help pastors integrate — not just think about — faith, work and vocation in the local church.
- Simplicity. By pooling ideas and resources, the network helps pastors and churches accomplish more while doing less.
